The Central Bank may establish additional requirements to the securities mentioned in this Item by its regulations.
3. For the purpose of protection of investors, the Central Bank shall have the right to define requirements and a procedure for sale of securities specified in Point 2 (6) of this Article, by its regulations. The Central Bank in accordance with its decision shall have the right to suspend or prohibit the sale of securities provided for by Point 2 (6) of this Article in the procedure defined by this Law and the regulations adopted based on this Law, if in compliance with the justified opinion of the Central Bank of Armenia the sale of the given securities detracts to the interest of investors.
 4. Based on the document defined in Points 2 (2) and 2 (3), public offering of securities defined under the above points may be made only upon preliminary consent of the Central Bank of Armenia. To get preliminary consent of the Central Bank, the Issuer or the underwriter shall submit an application to the Central Bank: the form and the list of documents to be attached to that application shall be defined by regulations of the Central Bank. The Central Bank shall make a decision on giving a preliminary consent or rejecting the application within 20 business days from the moment of receiving all necessary documents. The Central Bank may reject the preliminary consent if the submitted documents do not correspond to the requirements set forth by this law or regulations of the Central Bank or if there is major distortion or omission of information.
 5. Requirements to the form and content of the documents specified in Points 2 (4) and 2 (5) shall be established by regulations of the Central Bank.
 6. In terms of Point 2 (2-5) of this Article, a document shall be considered accessible for the interested investors if it was provided to all interested investors in due manner or was published in official web site of the Issuer or the Underwriter and the published copy was made to all interested investors at the Issuer's or Underwriter's location.
 7. In case of offers provided for by Point 1 of this Article, within 15 days after completion of the distribution of securities, the Issuer shall be obligated to inform the Central Bank, in the procedure defined by regulations of the Central Bank of Armenia. The Central Bank shall have the right to require additional information from the Issuer and the Underwriter if it is necessary to justify the application of that exception.

Article 7. Requirements to the Form of Securities

1. An invitation for public offering or issuance of a security, sale or making a selling offer or an invitation for buying a security, per the provider, subject to permission to the trade in the regulated market shall be prohibited.
2. Paper-based format securities that shall be publicly offered to the public or shall be permitted to the trade in the regulated market, in the procedure and in the cases specified by regulations of the Central Bank and by the rules of the Central Depository shall be transferred into the non-paper based format (dematerialization) or shall be immobilized, before commencement of public distribution process of securities or before applying for permission to the trade in the regulated market.

Article 8. The Prospectus

1. The Prospectus shall contain complete information on the Issuer and the offered securities that shall be sufficient to make a justified estimation by the investor regarding the Issuer and assets and liabilities of any warrantee (hereafter referred to as “the Warrantee”), financial position, income and expenses, business prospects, risks thereof, as well as the rights bound by those securities.
2. The Prospectus may be developed in the form of a single document or in the form of separate documents. The Prospectus drafted in the form of a single document as well as of separate documents shall contain a summary (hereafter referred to as “the Summary”) that meets the requirements defined in Point 3 of this Article. The Prospectus developed in the form of separate documents shall consist of registration statement comprising information on the Issuer, as well as description and summary paper of the offered securities.

If the Prospectus is drafted in the form of separate documents, each document shall be subject to registration by the Central Bank.

3. The Summary shall contain non-technical information and shall be of the same style with the Prospectus and shall use the same language by briefly describing the Issuer, risks thereof, financial position and the business prospects, as well as the Warrantee (if any) and the offered securities. The Summary shall contain a notification emphasizing that the Summary shall be treated as an introductory brief description of the Prospectus and the decision of the investor on making investments in the offered securities exclusively shall be based on the complete version of the Prospectus.

The person responsible for the development of the Summary shall be held liable under the civil law for providing incomplete and misleading information (including the translated part) only if the Summary looks incomplete or misleading when studied with other parts of the Prospectus. That provision shall be included in the Summary.

4. Requirements to the form and content of the Prospectus shall be defined by regulations of the Central Bank. The Central Bank may define different requirements to the form and content of the Prospectus based on the type of the offered securities.
5. Based on the written application of the Issuer, the Central Bank may define exceptions for publication of certain information contained in the Prospectus, if:
 - 1) disclosure of such information contradicts the public interest, or may lead to disclosure of economic interests.
 - 2) disclosure of such information may inflict significant damage on the legitimate interests of the Issuer, provided that non-inclusion of such information in the Prospectus will not mislead the investors in making estimations of the present and future financial position of the Issuer, Underwriter, Warrantee (if any) or the rights bound by the securities.
6. In the cases specified by Point 5 of this Article, the Issuer shall be obligated to provide the Central Bank with the corresponding information along with the written justification on the necessity of non-disclosure of that information.
7. Within 10 business days from the moment the Central Bank receives the aforementioned application, it shall make a decision on maintaining the confidentiality of information or rejecting the request. The Central Bank shall reject that request, if based on sufficient justification and in accordance with the Central Bank that information is significant and dismissal of that information from the Prospectus may threaten the interests of investors and mislead them on essential points with regard to the estimation of the present and future financial position of the Issuer, Underwriter, Warrantee (if any) or on the offered securities. Within 3 business days from the day when the confidentiality request is rejected, the Issuer shall be obligated to submit the supplements to the Prospectus to the Central Bank.
8. With its regulations, the Central Bank shall have the right to define the list of information and the descriptions, the confidentiality of which shall be maintained by the Central Bank, at any rate.
9. The procedure for submission of confidential information and documents shall be defined by regulations of the Central Bank. The Central Bank shall be obligated to ensure the non-disclosure of such information and documents, in compliance with the internal rules and by undertaking corresponding measures.
10. If the final price of the offered securities, as well as the volume of the offer is impossible to include in the Prospectus, it shall at least contain the maximum price of security, as well as the method or conditions for determination of the final price and volume of the offered securities.
11. In the instances defined by Point 10 of this Article, final information on the price and volume of the offered securities in the form of supplement to the Prospectus shall be provided to the Central Bank and shall be published in the procedure defined by Article 16 of this Law, before the commencement of the distribution process.

Article 9. Program Prospectus

1. The Issuer or the Underwriter shall have the right to publish a program prospectus, instead of the Prospectus, in case of public offering of non-equity security issued based on the program of offer, as well as in case of public offering of securities secured by the assets provided for by the law or the secured mortgage bonds (hereafter referred to as “the secured securities”).
2. The Program Prospectus may be drafted only in the form of a single document.
3. In case of the Program Prospectus, the requirement defined by Point 11 of Article 8 of this Law shall be applied in every offer provided for by the Program Prospectus.
4. Provisions of this Law that relate to the Prospectus shall also be applied to the Program Prospectus unless otherwise defined by this Law and regulations of the Central Bank.

Article 10. Registration of the Prospectus

1. The Prospectus may not be published if it is not registered with the Central Bank in conformance with the procedure defined by this Law and by regulations of the Central Bank.
2. To register the Prospectus, the Issuer or the Underwriter shall submit the registration application to the Central Bank, the form of which shall be defined by the Central Bank. The following shall be attached to the application:
 - 1) the Prospectus in one copy and in electronic version;
 - 2) the copy of the Charter of the Issuer;
 - 3) the state duty payment receipt;
 - 4) other documents defined by regulations of the Central Bank.
3. The Prospectus shall be considered registered on the 20th business day following the day when the application for registration is received by the Central Bank, if it is not registered by the Central Bank earlier, with the exception of the cases provided for by Point 4 of this Article.
4. If in accordance with the Central Bank the submitted documents are incomplete, or the Prospectus does not comply with the requirements specified by this Law and regulations of the Central Bank, or the Prospectus contains essential errors or misleading information, significant facts are missing from or are distorted in the Prospectus or, in accordance with the justified opinion of the Central Bank, the Prospectus does not comprise necessary and sufficient information for protection of the interests of investors, the Central Bank shall demand from the Issuer or the Underwriter to represent supplements to the Prospectus.

If before the registration date the Central Bank receives any supplement to the Prospectus, the application for registration of the Prospectus shall be considered submitted to the Central Bank from the date when the Central Bank receives that supplement.

5. The Central Bank shall represent the decision on the registration of application to the submitting entity within 3 business days following the day when the decision was made.
6. The Central Bank shall not bear any responsibility for the accuracy and truthfulness of the information contained in the Prospectus. The Prospectus must contain a provision specifying that the registration of the Prospectus by the Central Bank does not guarantee security of investment, or the accuracy and truthfulness of the provided information. That provision along with the edited version approved by the Central Bank shall be incorporated in the first pages of the Prospectus, in a visible place.

Article 11. Signing of the Prospectus

1. Accuracy and completeness of the information included in the Prospectus shall be verified by the signatures of the majority of members of the Board of Directors (or other body having the same authorities), Executive Director, Chief Accountant (if there is a department or any other executive body in the structure of the Issuer, signatures of all members of that body shall also be required) of the Issuer.
2. In case an expert opinion provided by an accountant, appraiser or any other expert is used in the Prospectus, or if their expert opinion (conclusion, report) is received for the use in the Prospectus, such opinion shall be signed by them and included in the Prospectus, completely, upon the written consent of the entity who has prepared the opinion, and shall be attached to the Prospectus. Accuracy and completeness of financial information included in the Prospectus shall be verified by an independent audit opinion.

Article 12. Obligation for Reimbursement

1. If any significant fact is omitted from or distorted in the Prospectus, including its translation, the Issuer or the Underwriter shall be obligated to reimburse the losses of the owner of securities that occurred as a result of such omission or distortion. Persons specified in Point 2 of Article 11 of this Law shall be responsible for the opinion, announcement, report, and conclusion and for appraisal act included in the Prospectus and submitted by them.
2. Entities specified in Point 1 of this Article shall bear joint responsibility (except for the entities specified in Point 2 of Article 11 of this Law, when joint responsibility refers solely to the responsibility of two or more experts that signed the same document or the same part of that document) before the buyer of the security as entities that cause joint damage and shall use the right for counter-claim to each other.

3. The obligation of the Issuer specified in Point 1 of this Article shall also apply in cases when the sources of information contained in the Prospectus were third parties, irrespective of their responsibility.
4. The Underwriter shall be waived of the obligation specified in Point 1 of this Article the latter proves that based on sufficient and proper studies, he had good grounds to believe and thereby believed in absence of inaccurate information or its distortion (omission) in the Prospectus upon its registration.

Article 13. Amount of Reimbursement

1. The entity that inflicts losses on investors in accordance with Article 12 of this Law shall be obligated to reimburse such losses through buyback of securities sold to that entity, at the acquisition price of securities. By reimbursing the loss in the aforementioned manner, the entity that inflicted losses shall be relieved of the obligation to reimburse that entity for any other loss.
2. The Underwriter shall not bear the obligation defined by Article 12 of this Law, if the entity that has incurred losses, at the moment of acquisition of securities, was aware or obviously might be aware that the Prospectus incorporates false and misleading information or a significant fact is missing or distorted in it.
3. Any agreement between the Issuer and the Underwriter and the Investor on exclusion, restriction or reduction of the obligation defined in Article 12 of this Law shall be invalid.
4. Expiration period for submitting claims with regard to the requirements arising from Article 12 of this Law shall be 5 years from the moment of the start of distribution of the given security.

Article 14. Supplements to the Prospectus

4. A contract between the Operator and the Market Participant or the Issuer on payments for participation in the market, permission to trade in securities of the Issuer, execution of transactions with securities on market or other services payments shall not be part of market rules.
5. The Operator shall prior to adopting the market rules allow the interested parties to give comments and feedback to the rules.

Article 116. Registration of Market Rules

1. Market rules approved by the Observers Council, as well as the amendments and supplements thereof (hereinafter, "the market rules") shall be submitted for registration with the Central Bank.
2. For registration of market rules the Operator shall submit to the Central Bank a solicitation (application) in the form defined by the Central Bank. Attached to the solicitation the Operator shall present also draft market rules and justifications for their enforcement.
3. With the purpose of evaluating the accuracy and authenticity of documents specified in Point 2 of this Article the Central Bank may request from the Operator additional information and documents. Within 5 working days from the moment of receiving such a request the Operator shall present in a written form the requested information and documents.
4. The Central Bank shall issue a resolution on registration or rejection of registration of market rules within 45 days of their submission to the Central Bank.
5. The Central Bank may reject registration of rules, if the Operator presented misleading, incomplete, contradictory information attached to the solicitation, or proposed rules contradict this Law or legal acts adopted on the basis of this Law, or, in the reasonable judgment of the Central Bank, the proposed rules threaten the lawful interests of the investors or those entities, to whom these rules apply.
6. If according to the justified opinion of the Central Bank the Operator fails to fulfill the functions or meet the requirements defined by its rules or ensure observance of the requirements defined by its rules, or the rules or activities are necessary for protection of the investors, the Central Bank shall have the right to order, by its decision, the Operator to adopt certain rule (rules) or issue certain resolution within the scope thereto or take other action in the procedure and time defined by the Central Bank.
7. Market rules approved by the Observers Council of the Operator shall come into effect from the day of registration with the Central Bank. Rules which make the current regime more stringent shall become effective after 6 months from the date of registration, except for emergency circumstances defined in Article 80 of this Law.

Within 3 working days after registration of market rules with the Central Bank the Operator shall be required to publish them on its web-site. The rules can be published only after their registration with the Central Bank.

CHAPTER 13. ORGANIZATION OF MARKET

Article 117. General Responsibilities of the Operator

1. The Operator shall be required to adopt and apply such rules that will ensure transparency and efficiency of market operation.
2. Under this Section, operation of the market is considered transparent and efficient if it ensures that:
 - 3) The implementation of offers and transactions by market participants is carried out in compliance with the defined requirements and is organized in a way to make information about them immediately available to the participants;
 - 4) All market participants concurrently and equally receive information on Issuers and trading in securities and that information is available to the public.

Article 118. Equality of Participants

1. Investment services provider shall have the right to become a market participant, if it complies with the requirements of this Law, other legal acts adopted on the basis of this Law, and the given market rules. The Operator shall have the right, by its Charter and market rules, to declare that only market participants are authorized to participate in trading on the market.
2. The Issuer or the entity soliciting permission for trading in securities on the market may apply for such permission, if the given securities, the Issuer and the trade in securities comply with the requirements of this Law, other legal acts adopted on the basis of this Law, and market rules.
3. The Operator shall authorize trading in given securities or authorize participation of entities in trading only in cases when the Issuer of given securities and the entity applying for participation in the market comply with the requirements of market rules, and pay for services provided by the Operator.

4. Payments specified in Point 3 of this Article should be equal for all market participants and all Issuers or groups of Issuers of the securities on sale on the market.

Article 119. Requirement of Publication if Trade Prospectus with regard to Permission to Trade on the Market

1. Permission to trade in securities on the regulated market is prohibited without publication of the Trade Prospectus that complies with the requirements of this Law.
2. Provisions of the Prospectus specified in Articles 8-11, 15, 16, 18, 19 and 23 of this Law, and those related to registration and publication of supplements to the Prospectus shall apply to the Trade Prospectus and its supplements, unless otherwise defined by this Chapter.
3. Provisions related to the public offers, the Underwriters and Issuers defined in Articles 18, 19, and 23 of this Law shall apply to the permission to trade in securities on the market, to entities soliciting permission to trade in securities on the market and to reporting issuers, unless otherwise defined by this Chapter.
4. Articles 12 and 13 of this Law shall apply to the Trade Prospectus, considering that the entity that caused damage has the right to indemnify losses by purchasing securities offered for sale on the market from the aggrieved entity at the price paid in the past for the security or at their sale price announced immediately after permission.
5. Provisions of Chapters 11-14 of this Law shall not apply to securities defined by Article 4 of this Law. The aforementioned securities shall be permitted for trade and sale on the market according to the given market rules.
6. The Central Bank shall have the right to define, by its legal and normative acts, special terms and procedures for clearing and final settlement of mutual liabilities (claims) resulting from the permission to trade in securities on the market defined in Article 4 of this Law, trading in securities and transactions with securities.

Article 120. Publication of the Trade Prospectus and Permission to Trade in Securities on the Market

1. The Trade Prospectus shall be published no later than on the working day preceding the permission to trade in securities on the market, at least in an electronic form, i.e. on the web-site of the Issuer, the investment services provider that is engaged in sale of securities (including the entity charging payments for securities) or the Operator of the given market.

2. Entities specified in Point 1 of this Article shall provide the copy of the Trade Prospectus in a printed form to any entity upon request at no charge. Printed version of the Prospectus shall be provided to the entity no later than on the next working day after receiving the entity's request.
3. The Central Bank shall be required to publish the Trade Prospectus registered with the Central Bank on its official web-site for the period of 12 months after the day of registration.
4. The Prospectus developed for public offer of given securities can be published instead of the Trade Prospectus defined by this Law, if the Issuer or the Underwriter, within 5 working days immediately after accomplishment of the Distribution of given securities, applies for permission to trade in securities on the market.

Article 121. Exceptions from Requirement to Publish the Trade Prospectus

1. The requirement to publish the Trade Prospectus defined in Point 1 of Article 119 shall not apply to the following securities:
 - 1) Shares, the total amount of which during 12 month does not exceed 10 % of the total amount of shares of the same class already permitted to trade on the given regulated market.
 - 2) Shares issued to the market to exchange them with shares of the same class of the given Issuer that were already permitted to trade on the given regulated market, if it does not cause increase of charter capital of the Issuer.
 - 3) Securities that are offered by the Issuer through exchange in connection with acquisition of equity securities of another company; and if there is a document available for interested investors, which, according to the opinion of the Central Bank, contains information equivalent to that required by the Trade Prospectus.
 - 4) Securities that are offered by the Issuer to the shareholders of the affiliating company in connection with incorporation of the Issuer with another company; and if there is a document available for interested investors, which, according to the opinion of the Central Bank, contains information equivalent to that required by the Trade Prospectus.
 - 5) Shares of the same class of securities already permitted to trade on the given market, for which they are paid as dividends, if there is a document available for interested investors containing information on the number and type of shares, as well as on the purpose and terms of the offer.
 - 6) Securities that are offered by the Issuer or the entity from the Issuer's group to the acting or former manager or to staff members of the given Issuer, if the securities of the same class are already permitted to trade on the given market and there is a document available for interested investors containing information on the number and type of shares, as well as on the purpose and terms of the offer.

- 7) The case, when the charter capital is changed by increasing or decreasing the nominal value of securities, in procedures defined by Articles 35 and 36 of the RA Law On Joint Stock Companies.
 - 8) Shares that belong to the same class of shares already permitted to trade on the given regulated market and have been issued for the purposes of exchange with other securities or to exercise rights resulting from that.
 - 9) Securities that were issued by the Issuer of securities that have already been permitted to trade on the given market, if the total nominal value of offered securities does not exceed within 12 months the value defined by legal and normative acts of the Central Bank.
2. Based on the document defined by Items 3 and 4 of Point 1 of this Article, the Issuer or the entity soliciting permission to trade in securities on the market may apply for permission to trade in securities only upon preliminary consent of the Central Bank. With the purpose of obtaining preliminary consent of the Central Bank the Issuer or the entity soliciting permission to trade in securities on the market shall submit an application. The form and the list of attachments shall be defined by legal and normative acts of the Central Bank. The Central Bank shall issue the resolution on giving preliminary consent or on rejecting the application within 20 working days after receiving all required documents. The Central Bank shall reject the preliminary consent if the submitted documents do not comply with this Law and requirements specified in regulations of the Central Bank or if there is significant omission or distortion.
 3. The requirements to the form and contents of the documents provided for by Items 5 and 6 of Point 1 of this Article shall be set forth by legal and normative acts of the Central Bank.
 4. The document specified under Items 3-6 of Point 1 of this Article shall be deemed available for interested investors, if it has been duly delivered to all interested investors or has been published on the official web-site of the Issuer or the entity soliciting permission to trade in securities on the market, and the printed version of the document is available for all interested investors in the head office of the Issuer or the entity soliciting permission to trade in securities on the market. Under Items 3-6 of Point 1 of Article 1, the interested investor shall be the entity, to which the offer of the given securities has been addressed.

Article 122. Supplements to the Trade Prospectus and Effective Period

1. Effective period of the trade prospectus is the period following publication of the trade prospectus in the course of which admission of securities to trade on the regulated market based on the prospectus is question is deemed valid.

2. Effective period of the trade prospectus shall be 12 months unless requirements set forth in Point 4 of this Article are violated.
3. Subsequent to the end of the effective date of the trade prospectus trade of securities admitted to trade on regulated market on the basis of the prospectus in question shall be prohibited.

If, starting the moment of submission of an application for registration of the Trade Prospectus until the day of giving permission to trade in securities on the regulated market, any changes in the information to be included in the Prospectus take place, or any new significant circumstance or fact occurs, or any inaccuracy or discrepancy is revealed in the Trade Prospectus, the Issuer or the entity soliciting permission to trade in securities on the market shall be required, within 5 working days after the day of being informed or the day it might obviously be informed about it, to submit to the Central Bank a supplement to the Trade Prospectus. Provisions of Points 2-5 of Article 14 of this Law shall apply to introduction of amendments and supplements to the Trade Prospectus.

Article 123. Settlement of Disputes

1. The entity may in court procedures or, if there is a written agreement between that entity and the Operator about dispute resolution in arbitration tribunal, by decision of arbitration tribunal recognize the right of his securities' admission to trade on the market and oblige the Operator to permit to trade in those securities on the market.
2. The entity may in court procedures or, if there is a written agreement between that entity and the Operator about dispute resolution in arbitration tribunal, by decision of the arbitration tribunal to recognize the right of participation in the market and oblige the Operator to grant him the status of a market participant.

Article 124. Market Participant Responsibilities

A Market Participant shall commit to the following:

- 1) Observe the requirements of the market rules;
- 2) Provide the Operator with accurate and complete information defined by legal acts and market rules;
- 3) Upon request of the Operator or in cases defined by market rules, provide information to the Operator on transactions with securities permitted to trade on the market, that were made beyond the given market;
- 4) Avoid market abuse; adhere to the principles of honest and conscientious trade.

Article 125. Responsibilities of Reporting Issuers

1. The Reporting Issuer shall be required to fulfill the obligations specified in Items 1 and 2 of Article 124 of this Law.
2. The managers of the Reporting Issuer and other staff members, as well as entities supervising the Issuer are required to adhere to principles of honest and conscientious trade, while making transactions with given securities.
3. In addition to requirements defined by Article 126 of this Law, the Reporting Issuers shall be required, after publication of the annual report in procedures defined by legal and normative acts of the Central Bank, to publish another report on information published during the previous year pursuant to the Law of the Republic of Armenia on Accounting and other legal acts. The report shall contain references to sources of presented information.
4. The requirements provided for by Item 3 of this Article shall not apply to issuers of securities specified under Point 1 (3) of Article 6 of this Law.

Article 126. Disclosure of Information by Reporting Issuer on Regular Basis

1. The Reporting Issuer shall publish and submit to the Central Bank:
 - 5) annual reports approved by the independent auditor;
 - 6) interim reports.
2. Detailed requirements to the form, content, frequency and procedures for publication of reports specified by Point 1 of this Article shall be defined by legal and normative acts of the Central Bank. While defining the aforementioned requirements, the size of the Reporting Issuer, volumes of transactions made with securities issued by that Issuer, and the type of securities shall be taken into consideration.
3. The Reporting Issuer shall be required to provide reports specified in Point 1 of this Article to any entity upon request of that entity, by charging only the cost of copying.
4. The requirement specified in Point 1 of this Article shall not apply to the following entities:
 - 7) the Republic of Armenia, communities of the Republic of Armenia and the Central Bank;
 - 8) the entities that issued securities guaranteed by the Republic of Armenia and the Central Bank;
 - 9) the issuers of securities defined by Point 1 (3) of Article 6 of this Law.
5. The Market Operator may define by market rules additional requirements to the Reporting Issuers on disclosure of information.
6. Under this Article and Article 127 of this Law, the Reporting Issuer shall be also the issuer of permitted securities underlying the depository note.

Article 127. Disclosure of Information on Significant Facts

1. The Reporting Issuer shall be required to publish significant facts and information about him and securities issued by him, in procedures set forth by legal and normative acts of the Central Bank. The Central Bank may by its legal and normative acts define the incomplete list of significant facts and information specified in this Point.
2. The requirement set forth by Point 1 of this Article shall not apply to the issuers specified by Point 4 of Article 126 of this Law.
3. The information specified in Point 1 of this Article shall be submitted by the Reporting Issuer also to the Central Bank and the Operator of the market, where the given securities are permitted to trade.
4. On the basis of a written application of the Reporting Issuer the Central Bank may define exceptions from requirements to information disclosure specified in Point 1 of this Article, if:
 - 1) disclosure of such information contradicts public interests, or may lead to public disclosure of state secret;
 - 2) disclosure of such information may damage lawful interests of the Reporting Issuer, on condition that non-publication of that information may not mislead the investors that are in the process of taking decision on sale or purchase of securities of the Reporting Issuer.
5. In cases defined by Point 4 of this Article the Reporting Issuer shall present information on significant facts only to the Central Bank together with a written justification of the necessity for non-disclosure. The Reporting Issuer shall be required to specify the period, during which the presented information will be considered confidential. Immediately upon expiration of that period the Issuer shall disclose that information in procedures defined by Point 1 of this Article, as well as present the information to the Operator of the market, where securities issued by that Issuer are permitted to trade.
6. Within 5 working days from the moment of receiving the application foreseen by Point 4 of this Point the Central Bank shall issue a resolution on keeping or rejecting confidentiality. The Central Bank shall reject confidentiality, if it believes, based on sufficient bases, that the information is essential and non-disclosure of that information may threaten the interests of investors or hinder fair pricing of given securities, except for the cases defined by Point 7 of this Article. Within 3 days after rejection of confidentiality the Reporting Issuer shall be required to disclose the information in procedures defined by Point 1 of this Article, as well as present the information to the Operator of the regulated market, where securities issued by that Issuer are permitted to trade.

7. The Central Bank shall disclose information deemed confidential before expiration of the period of confidentiality specified in Point 5 of this Article in the following instances:
 - 1) bases for considering the information confidential are not available any more;
 - 2) the Reporting Issuer did not ensure confidentiality of the information and the information became available to third entities.
8. The Central Bank shall have the right to define by its legal and normative acts the list and description of those data, which confidentiality should in any case be kept by the Central Bank.
9. If the Reporting Issuer failed to fulfill its responsibilities within the period set forth in Point 6 of this Article, the Central Bank may submit to the Market Operator and publish those data by it. This shall not release the Issuer from responsibilities set forth by Law.
10. The procedure for submission of information and documents shall be defined by legal and normative acts of the Central Bank. The Central Bank shall be required to exclude publication of such information and documents by its internal rules and procedures or by taking other measures.
11. The Market Operator may set forth additional requirements for issuers on disclosure of essential facts and information.

Article 128. Auditor of the Reporting Issuer and Audit of Reports

1. Annual financial reports of the Reporting Issuer shall be subject to mandatory audit.
2. Audit of financial-economic activities of the Reporting Issuer shall be conducted by an independent and reliable audit company having sufficient experience and professional abilities in the area of auditing such issuers. The Central Bank may by its legal and normative acts define criteria for the entity engaged in audit of financial-economic activities and the entity that complies with the criteria will have the right to provide audit services to the Reporting Issuer.

Article 129. Transaction on Market

1. With the purpose of protection of investors and fair pricing of securities the Central Bank shall have the right to set forth, by its legal and normative acts, the mandatory terms of and requirements to permission to trade in and sale of securities on market.
2. Investment services providers shall be prohibited to make any transaction with securities on market by violating this Law, legal and normative acts of the Central

- Bank and market rules adopted in conformity with those acts; the Operator shall be prohibited to permit such transaction or not to pursue such breach.
3. Securities admitted to trade on the market shall be prohibited to trade on other markets, except for cases defined in Point 4 of this Article.

 - 1) Private transactions, i.e. transactions parties to which are known beforehand;
 - 2) Transactions executed by underwriters within the framework of securities distribution;
 - 3) Admission to trade on other regulated markets or sale of securities admitted to trade on the Market.
 5. If any transaction that is deemed to be an exception from the cases defined by legal and normative acts adopted pursuant to Point 4 of this Article is executed by or through the entity providing investments services beyond the market, then the latter shall present the price and description of that transaction to the Operator in the form and procedures set forth by legal and normative acts of the Central Bank. That information shall be published by the Operator.
 6. On the market, the security sale/purchase contract (transaction) shall be deemed signed from the moment of accepting the offer proposed to the market according to the market rules.

Article 130. Suspension and Termination of Trade in Securities

1. Based on the necessity to protect investors interests the Central Bank may upon its decision order to the Operator to do the following:
 - 1) For at most 10 working days suspend trade in securities, if, based on the strong opinion of the Central Bank, the requirements defined by this Law, other legal acts adopted on the basis of this Law, have been or may be violated.
 - 2) Terminate trade in certain securities on the market, if the requirements towards trading defined by this Law, other legal acts adopted on the basis of this Law, and market rules have been violated or, upon strong opinion of the Central Bank, trade in those securities threaten investors interests.
 - 3) Change or annul the resolution of the Operator specified in Points 2 and 3 of this Article.
2. The Operator shall have the right to terminate trade in any security permitted to trade on the market, if the Issuer of that security violated the requirements set forth by this Law, other legal acts adopted on the basis of this Law, and market rules, or failed to fulfill its responsibilities towards the Operator, or if other bases are defined by market rules.

3. The Operator may terminate trade in any security on the regulated market, if the Issuer of that security seriously violated requirements defined by this Law, other legal acts adopted on the basis of this Law, and market rules, or if other bases are defined by market rules.

4. Upon application of the Reporting Issuer the Operator may terminate trade in securities of the given Issuer on the regulated market, if the Issuer dully fulfilled its responsibilities towards the Operator vested in by this Law, other legal acts adopted on the basis of this Law and the market rules.

5. The resolution of the Reporting Issuer on termination of trade in securities issued by him to the regulated market shall be issued by the General Meeting of Shareholders of the Issuer by $\frac{3}{4}$ of votes of owners of voting shares that participate in the General Meeting, which should be no less than $\frac{2}{3}$ of votes of owners of voting shares.

6. The Operator shall be obliged to inform in defined procedures the Issuer, trade in securities of which has been suspended or terminated.

Article 131. Registration of Transactions

1. The Operator shall in a chronological order keep records on all transactions made on the market.
2. The Operator shall be required to register at least such information on each transaction made with securities, which contains date of the transaction, the market participant that signed the transaction, the security being the subject of the transaction, as well as the distinctive code, nominal value and price of that security.
3. Information on transactions registered by the Operator shall be kept no less than for 7 years.
4. With the purpose of registration of information on transactions the Operator shall have the right to request from market participants any information about essential terms of the transaction, the customers or creditors of the market participant that signed the transaction, the time of incurring liabilities to or receiving instructions for customers or creditors of that market participant and fulfillment of those liabilities and instructions, as well as other data pursuant to market rules.

Article 132. Special Conditions of Bankruptcy

1. The insolvency manager or the liquidation manager of the insolvent reporting issuer or of the investment services provider shall keep on observing market rules by the company.
2. The contributions of the investment services provider to the guarantee fund established in procedures set forth under this Law or other legal acts adopted on the basis of this Law shall not be included into liquid assets of the entity controlling the assets of the investment services provider or the guarantee fund.

Article 133. Responsibility to Keep Confidentiality of Information not Subject to Publication

1. The Operator, its bodies, their managers and other staff members shall be required for uncertain period of time to keep confidentiality of information and make unavailable to third entities the information received in the course of implementation of their official responsibilities, functions, cooperation of the Operator with the Central Bank provided for by Point 2 of Article 140 of this Law, if it is not subject to publication, pursuant to this Law, other legal acts or market rules.
2. In legally defined procedures and cases the information specified under Point 1 of this Article shall be disclosed by the appropriate body of the Operator, its managers and other staff members to other bodies of the Operator, managers or other staff members, as well as to third entities that are responsible for keeping such information, in cases and procedures defined by the Charter of the Operator or other acts.

Article 134. Responsibility to Transfer Information

Information presented to the Operator shall be precise, accurate and complete. The entity shall immediately transfer the information to the Operator, unless other period defined by this Law, other legal acts and market rules.

Article 135. Publication of Information by the Operator

With the purpose of ensuring transparency of securities market the Operator shall be required to publish information obtained from market participants and reporting issuers, in the volume and procedures set forth under this Law, legal and normative acts of the Central Bank and market rules.

Article 136. Publication of Information on Trading

1. The Operator shall be required to ensure continual availability of information on purchase, sale of any security permitted to trade on the market, the price of the last transaction, changes of the price, the minimal and maximal price and the volume and number of transactions made with the given security.
2. The Central Bank shall have the right to define in its legal and normative acts detailed requirements to the contents, volume, periodicity of disclosure, form of the information defined by Point 1 of this Article.

Article 137. Procedure for Disclosure of Information

3. Information specified under Articles 135 and 136 of this Law shall be disclosed by the Operator at least on its web-site.

4. Information specified under Article 136 of this Law shall be disclosed in Armenian and English languages.

Article 138. Exemption from Responsibility for Provision and Disclosure of Information

1. The entity responsible for provision to the Operator or publication of information may be exempt of such responsibility by cases, procedures defined by market rules and upon permission of the Operator. The Operator shall be required to inform immediately the Central Bank about such permission.
2. The Central Bank may by its order oblige the Operator to annul the permission specified in Point 1 of this Article, if, in the reasonable judgment of the Central Bank, the issuance of such permission is not justified from the viewpoint of protection of investors rights, financial condition of the market and the Issuer.
3. If, within 3 working days after receiving a notification about issuance of the permission specified under Point 1 of this Article, the Central Bank does not issue the aforementioned order, the consent of the Central Bank to issuance of the permission specified by Point 1 of this Article shall be considered given.

Article 139. Responsibility of the Operator to Control the Market

1. The Operator shall be obliged to control pricing and execution of transactions on the market with the purpose of revealing and preventing transactions made by using internal information, by price abuse and breach of legal acts.
2. The Operator shall control market participants and reportable issuers within the limits and in procedures set forth under this law, other legal acts and market rules.
3. The Operator shall have the right to check the documents of market participants with regard to their right to participate in market and request from them information necessary to implement control. The Operator shall have the same rights towards the reporting issuers.

Article 140. Cooperation with the Central Bank

1. The Operator and the Central Bank shall cooperate in order to implement efficient control over the market by the Central Bank.
2. The Operator shall be required to inform the Central Bank about any breach of legally defined requirements, in procedures established by the Central Bank.

3. While implementing control over the market, the Central Bank shall have the right to provide information to the Operator, which is necessary to appropriately control the market, including such information not subject to publication that was obtained by the Central Bank in connection with implementation of supervisory activities set forth under this Law.
4. Upon request of the Central Bank the Operator shall be obliged to provide to the Central Bank free access to informational, technological and other systems used for market organization, transactions mediation and transfer of information.

Article 141. Reports of the Operator

1. In forms, procedures and time frames established by the Central Bank the Operator shall be required to present to the Central Bank reports, including its quarterly reports and annual financial reports approved by the independent audit opinion.
2. The Central Bank may request any other report, reference or explanation regarding the Operator, market participants, reporting issuers or their activities, which is necessary for implementation of its authorities vested in by this Law.
3. Within 5 working days after receiving the request specified in Point 2 of this Article the Operator shall be obliged to submit to the Central Bank the requested information and/or documents.

Article 142. Penalties Imposed by the Operator

1. In procedures and amounts set forth by market rules, the Operator may impose penalties on market participants and reporting issuers for breach of requirements defined by this law, other legal acts adopted on the basis of this Law, and market rules.
2. Where a decision on imposing penalties on the given entity is rendered, the latter shall have the right, within 10 working days from the moment of getting the decision, to appeal that resolution in court or in arbitration tribunal established by the Operator in procedures defined by this Law, other legal acts and market rules.
3. Appeal of the resolution on the aforementioned penalties shall not terminate their enforcement.
4. The Operator shall be obliged in procedures defined by market rules to publish information on the fact of enforcement of penalties, the time, the nature of breach and the identity of the entity committed the breach and the court decision, if the penalty was appealed in court.

CHAPTER 14. THE STOCK EXCHANGE

Article 143. The Concept of Stock Exchange

1. The stock exchange is a regulated market, which operates in compliance with the minimal requirements set forth by this Chapter and regulations of the Central Bank.
2. The provisions of this Law on market and market operator shall extend respectively to the stock exchange (hereinafter Exchange) and operators of the stock exchange (hereinafter Exchange operators), unless otherwise defined by this Chapter.

Article 144. Members of the Exchange

1. A member to the Exchange shall be a person, who was granted by the Exchange operator the right to enter into transactions with all or certain securities admitted to trade (listed) in the Exchange and acts in accordance with the rules of the Exchange.
2. Membership to Exchange is open only to persons providing investment services, who meet the requirements set forth by the Exchange rules.
3. The Exchange operator shall be entitled to define by his charter or the Exchange rules that only members of the Exchange may participate in Exchange trade.
4. Members of the Exchange shall be obliged to pay the Exchange operator for the services provided thereby, unless otherwise provided for by the Exchange rules.
5. The provisions of this Law referring to participants of the regulated market shall apply to members of the Exchange, unless otherwise defined by this Chapter.

Article 145. The Exchange Rules

In addition to market rules defined in Article 115 of this Law, the Exchange rules shall define:

- 1) Grounds, terms and procedures for listing, delisting and suspension of listing of securities,
- 2) Obligations of issuers of listed security with regard to the Exchange operator,
- 3) Grounds, terms and procedures for admittance or termination of membership,
- 4) Rights and responsibilities of the Exchange members to the Exchange operator, other members, as well as customers and lenders,
- 5) Rights, obligations, procedures and conditions for selections or appointment of persons authorized to take decision with regard to securities' listing, management body of the operator or members therein.

Article 146. Listing

1. Only securities listed in the Exchange pursuant to this Law, other legal acts adopted on this basis and the Exchange rules may be permitted to trade in the Exchange by the Exchange operator.
2. Unless otherwise defined by this Chapter, the provisions on permission of securities to market trade, as well as suspension and termination of the permission shall extend to listing, suspended listing and delisting of securities in the Exchange.

Article 147. Listing Conditions

1. Only securities, which and the issuers of which correspond to the requirements set out by this Law, regulations of the Central Bank and the Exchange rules may be listed with the Exchange.
2. Upon listing the securities and the issuers thereof shall at least conform the requirements set forth by the regulations of the Central Bank, which shall stipulate:
 - 1) Requirements on the issuer, including requirements on issuer's legal status, capital and financial situation, issuer's management bodies, activities and conditions thereto,
 - 2) Requirements on securities, including legal status of the securities, special rules for free circulation, public offering, listing of the same-class securities and form of the security,
 - 3) Requirements on securities issued by foreign issuers,
 - 4) Other requirements, including requirements on minimal value of listed debt securities and listing conditions of convertible bonds.

CHAPTER 15. SECURITIES TENDER OFFER

Article 148. Securities Tender Offer

1. This Chapter shall apply to tender offer of equity securities issued by joint stock companies (excluding investment funds), registered within the territory of the Republic of Armenia and admitted to trade in the regulated market of the Republic of Armenia.

The issuer's offer to purchase the securities issued by him shall not be considered a securities tender offer.

2. A tender offer is a public offer to purchase all or a part of equity securities of the same class, based on which the person or persons (the buyer) who is making the offer proposes that the owners of such class of securities alienate 10 and more percent of securities of such class to the purchaser. The tender offer may be made at least at the market price of the given securities, the procedure and conditions to calculation of which shall be defined by the Central Bank.

3. The person, prior to public disclosure of the securities tender offer, shall obtain the preliminary consent of the Central Bank. In order to receive the preliminary consent of the Central Bank the persons who is making the tender offer shall submit to the Central Bank the securities tender offer statement (hereinafter in this Article referred to as statement) and the requirements on information contained therein shall be defined by the regulations of the Central Bank.

4. The Central Bank shall render the decision on giving or rejecting the request for preliminary consent within a period of 15 business days after receiving the statement. The Central Bank shall be entitled to reject the preliminary consent if the statement or conditions of the offer contradict the provisions of this Law, regulations of the Central Bank.

5. The person who is making the securities tender offer shall within a period of 5 business days after receiving the preliminary consent of the Central Bank, disclose the tender offer pursuant to the procedure defined by regulations of the Central Bank. All advertising and other materials that are publicly disclosed or provided to securities owners in parallel to the tender offer shall contain the information included in the statement.

6. The Central Bank shall have the authority of requesting from the person making a tender offer any document or information about the offer, including those referring to lawfulness of the purpose of securities acquisition, origins of resources used for the offer.

7. Any offer, announcement, statement and amendments thereto, information, advertising and other materials (hereinafter referred to as the announcements) under this Article shall also be submitted to the issuer, no later than on the date of their public disclosure.

8. Any public offer or advice to accept or reject the tender offer of securities shall be executed in conformity with this Law and regulations of the Central Bank adopted on this basis.

9. It is prohibited to misrepresent (omit), with direct or indirect intention, any material fact from any announcement, published or provided in accordance with this Article, with respect to any securities tender offer.

10. During the securities tender offer, it shall be unlawful for any persons who have made the offer

- 1) to purchase or offer to purchase any security, which is the subject of the tender offer (or any security subject to be exchanged with such securities), otherwise or through other means than it is provided for in the tender offer;
- 2) to sell any security of the issuer, which is the subject of the tender offer, or which may be exchanged with it. This provision does not limit the compensation offered to the owners of the securities by the tender offer or the possibility to convert a part of it with the securities of other issuer in compliance with point 11 in this Article.

11. The compensation to owners of the securities proposed by the securities tender offer may be given by money means and/or securities of other issuer or the same issuer admitted to trade in the regulated market except for the tender offer made in compliance with Article 152 of this Law, in which case the above compensation may be made only by money means.

(Article 148 is amended according to AL-271-S, 22.12.10)

Article 149. Conditions to Tender Offer and Changes Thereto

1. The period of tender offer of securities shall be no less than 15 days and no longer than 60 days.
2. Tender offer conditions shall be the same for all owners of securities of the same class. If announcements with respect to the tender offer are provided to the securities owners, all such owners of securities of the same class shall receive the same announcements.
3. Any person who has accepted the tender offer of the securities, has the right to withdraw his acceptance at any time between the date of the publication of the tender offer (or the change thereto) and the closing date.
4. The person who has made the tender offer of securities may change the conditions of tender offer prior to its closing date, by offering to increase the size of compensation suggested to the securities owners or prolong the period of the tender offer. In order to introduce changes to the tender offer of securities the person making the offer shall request the preliminary consent of the Central Bank by submitting additions to the statement. The Central Bank shall render the decision on giving or refusing the preliminary consent within 3 business days after receiving the addition to the statement. The Central Bank may refuse to give preliminary consent if the changes introduced by the addition deteriorate the positions of securities owners as compared to initial conditions of the offer.

The person who is making the tender offer of securities shall be obliged to disclose, in compliance with the regulations of the Central Bank, the changes incorporated in the tender offer of securities within 3 days after receiving the preliminary consent of the Central Bank.

5. If any person who has made the tender offer of securities changes the conditions of the tender offer, prior to its closing date, by offering to increase the size of the compensation suggested to the securities owners, such person shall pay the increased size of the compensation against all offered securities (or pay the difference, if the previous compensation is already paid) regardless of the fact that the securities were offered and accepted prior to the announcement of the change.

Article 150. Acceptance of Greater Number of Securities than envisaged by Tender Offer

1. If the tender offer of securities was made for a part of any class of security, and if within the effective date of such offer (between the date when the offer is published or provided till the closing date of the offer) the actual number of offered securities is greater than it was envisaged by the tender offer, the securities shall be accepted proportionally, according to the number of securities offered by each owner.
2. The requirements set forth by Point 1 of this Article shall also apply to such securities that are offered within the effective period for provision of changes stipulated in point 4, Article 149 of this Law.

Article 151. Procedure for Unification of Persons

Under Articles 148, 149, 150 and 152 of this Law, all persons who, for purposes of acquiring, holding or disposing any of the securities of an issuer, have agreed (orally, or in writing) to act jointly, for the purposes of this Law shall be considered one person, and securities of the same class acquired by each of them shall be unified in order to determine their percentage among all securities of such class.

Article 152. The Mandatory Tender Offer of Securities

1. Any person, who as a result of one or more transactions with the issuer's equity securities becomes the owner of more than 75% of the same class of equity securities, shall make a tender offer for all securities of that class in compliance with the requirements of this Chapter.
2. For cases stipulated by point 1 of this Article the person shall submit the tender offer to the Central Bank within a period of 10 business days from the date of the transaction as a result of which the person became the owner of more than 75% of the same class of securities.
3. The requirements set forth by point 1 of this Article shall also apply to waiver of permission for trade of stock in the regulated market on grounds stipulated by point 4 of Article 130, the procedure and conditions for which are defined by regulations of the Central Bank.
4. The requirement set forth by point 1 of this Article shall not apply to the cases below:
 - 1) The person became the owner of more than 75% of the same class of securities as a result of reducing the statutory capital of the company,
 - 2) The person became the owner of more than 75% of the same class of securities as a result of non mandatory tender offer for all securities of the given class made by him in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter.
 - 3) The securities were purchased by an investment service provider for underwriting purposes,
 - 4) The person has alienated more than 75% of the same class of securities, within 10 business days from the date of acquisition, to a third person, who under Article 151 of this Law is not considered to have agreed to act jointly, under the condition that the issuer's general meeting of shareholders is not convened during that period.

CHAPTER 16. ACQUISITION OF PARTICIPATION

Article 153. Scope of this Chapter

This Chapter applies to acquisition of participation in joint stock companies registered within the territory of the Republic of Armenia, the securities of which are admitted to trade in the regulated market of the Republic of Armenia.

Article 154. Obligation for Notification

1. Any person who acquires, directly or indirectly, personally or through affiliated persons, such participation in the company as a result of which his participation with voting right in the statutory capital of the company makes 5%, 10%, 20%, 50%, 75% and more, shall notify immediately, but no later than within a period of 4 business days, both the issuer and the Central Bank in accordance with the procedure defined by the Central Bank.

2. If the person's participation with voting right in the statutory capital of the company becomes less than any limit stipulated by point 1 of this Article, the person shall immediately, but no later than within a period of 4 days, notify both the issuer and the Central Bank as stipulated by the Central Bank.

3. The periods defined in points 1 and 2 of this Article shall be counted from the moment when the person learnt or could have learnt given his reasonable attention about acquisition, increase or decrease of such participation.

Article 155. Verification to Acquisition or Alienation of Participation

Upon request of the Central Bank or the company the person who has submitted notification pursuant to points 1 and 2 of Article 154 in this Law, shall verify the size of direct or indirect participation, its acquisition and alienation.

Article 156. Obligation for Disclosure

The issuer shall be obliged to organize disclosure of information collected in compliance with Article 154 of this Law in accordance with the provisions of regulations of the Central Bank.

Article 157. Exceptions from Notification Requirement

1. The Central Bank shall have the right to, based on the application submitted by the person, including written justifications, define waiver from the obligation for notification set forth by Article 154 of this Law, if:

- 1) The applicant is providing investment services defined under points 2 and 4 of Point 1 of Article 25 of this Law,
- 2) The applicant is a participant of the regulated market of the Republic of Armenia,
- 3) The waiver is requested with regard to acquisition or alienation of significant participation undertaken upon provision of investment services stipulated in points 2 and 4 of Point 1 of Article 25 in this Law, and
- 4) The applicant shall not use his participation to hinder the company's governance practices.

2. Where the Central Bank fails to render a decision on waiver within a period of 7 days from the date of receiving the application mentioned in point 1 of this Article, the application shall be deemed rejected. Upon request of the person the Central Bank shall justify the rejection of waiver.
3. The Central Bank may define the list of information required for the purpose of rendering the decision on waiver and processing the application.

CHAPTER 17. PROHIBITION OF MARKET ABUSE

Article 158. Market Abuse

For the purpose of this Law, market abuse is the inaccurate use of inside information with regard to execution of market transaction, including price manipulations.

Article 159. Application of Provisions on Market Abuse

1. Unless otherwise stipulated by this Chapter, the provisions of this Chapter shall apply to all securities admitted to trade in the regulated market of the Republic of Armenia, as well as the securities and relations thereon with pending permission for trade in the regulated market.
2. The prohibition stipulated by Article 162 of this Law shall also apply to such securities, which are though not admitted to trade in the regulated market, their prices depend on the prices of securities admitted to trade in such market.
